

An update on storm recovery efforts as of September 1 at 9 a.m.:

- Debris removal update: This week, Wyoming is going through all of the harder-hit areas in the six-square-mile area damaged by the tornado for a second time, picking up the additional storm-related brush that property owners have placed along the right-of-way. This includes the 400+ locations called in by those who placed a pile of brush in front of their residence. Any remaining storm-related brush that property owners wish to have picked up needs to be placed along the right-of-way (in the parkway or behind the walk -- if it will block the street or sidewalk) by Tuesday morning, September 6. We plan to pick up these isolated piles next week.
- Yard waste site: The Wyoming yard waste site is extending its hours and will remain open over the Labor Day weekend. It will be closed from Tuesday morning, September 6 through noon on Thursday, September 15 to allow the City to host a regional snowplowing event.
