

WYOMING POLICE DEPARTMENT

ANNUAL REPORT 2012

JAMES E. CARMODY
CHIEF OF POLICE

Introduction

Chief James E. Carmody

To Those We Serve;

As we close out an exciting and challenging 2012, the next few years appear to be equally as challenging – and just as exciting. In accordance with our Mission Statement, we endeavor to continue reaching out to all of you as partners in our efforts to maintain the quality of life you have come to enjoy.

As you will read further into this report, our crime rates continue to place well below the national averages for Cities of equal size and population, but there are signs that things might be trending upward. History has proven many times in the past that crimes rates and the economy do have a relationship, but not in the manner one would think. Historically, crime rates drop when the economy slows. Coupled with our aggressive crime prevention and suppression efforts over the past few years, the City of Wyoming has enjoyed crime rates that are at historic lows.

Those areas that we are seeing some slight upturns are being addressed already and we have engaged all of our resources to focus on some of the causative factors. One of these efforts is a new and innovative method of tracking traffic and crime data, while looking for trends and overlaps. Data Driven Analysis of Crime and Traffic Statistics or DDACTS involves the analysis of crime and traffic crash data to identify “hot spots” of criminal activities, while also examining the traffic data for crashes and enforcement. Once an area is identified, patrol officers are deployed and engage in concentrated traffic enforcement. The net effect is an omnipresence of visible patrol activity and an increase in enforcement – reducing crashes and coming into contact with the criminal element that either live in the area, or are coming into the area to commit their crimes. Some of our initial trial periods have resulted in significant crash reduction and an increase in arrests for wanted persons and field interviews of possible suspects.

This past year also marked a milestone for the Wyoming Police Department when it was recognized by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) as one of less than one-thousand police departments in the United States to receive International accredited status. The award comes after a three year self-assessment process that required the compliance of 484 professional police standards. During self-assessment, all of the WYPD’s policies and practices were examined, refined, rewritten or implemented in order to achieve this prestigious recognition. Of the more than 400 police agencies in Michigan, the Wyoming Police Department is now one of only nine police departments in the State to have received this recognition.

The year has also been a year of changes. We have said goodbye to old friends and welcomed many new ones. We have worked to maintain our staffing and have strengthened our Forensic Science Unit with the addition of our new Supervisor, Terra Wesseldyk. Terra brings an incredible array of additional forensic skills to our team, and you will see the WYPD forensic capabilities expand into a number of new areas. These skill sets have been instrumental in aiding our Criminal Investigations Division in maintaining a case clearance rate far above the National averages, along with providing “iron-clad” criminal cases to be prosecuted and adjudicated. Along with the addition of Terra, we have made a number of new promotions during the past twelve months as well.

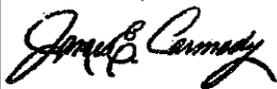

Introduction

Several newly appointed Sergeants and Lieutenants, supported by a host of new officers, bring energy to the department that is both refreshing and exciting. The depth of our management and leadership team is greater now than ever. These highly skilled and experienced leaders drive our progressive and proactive customer service model, while providing the needed mentorship for the officers who are new to our profession. All of these new supervisors and patrol officers are given careful and professional oversight by the more experienced command personnel and supported by two of the finest police Captains in the business.

As far as service delivery goes, we continue to introduce new innovations in proactive patrols, investigative services and community outreach. Our Community Service Officers (CSO's) have racked up hundreds of hours in building relationships and partnerships with both the residential and business community. Our CSOs took on a project of addressing high call demands at some local businesses by engaging both the surrounding businesses and the residents of adjoining neighborhoods. Focusing on partnerships, the end results were nothing less than spectacular. We reduced our calls-for-service in this area by 76% in less than one year. Our patrol officers, while providing proper call response times and aggressive traffic enforcement, were also able to conduct an incredible 30,000 business property checks in 2012. These require a physical check of a business or building by the officer, who then leaves a card indicating that the property was found to be secure.

Finally, it is well known in our professional circles that we go nowhere without the much needed support of our clerical staff and our Senior Volunteers. Their work is absolutely critical to the successful accomplishment of our Mission, and they are a critical piece of our success in all that we do. It is, and will continue to be, a team effort from front to back, side to side. We are here to serve you and this community in the best possible way, and we do it with; HONOR, COURAGE, DUTY, and TRUST. We thank you, our City Administration, our Mayor and City Council for their continued support and confidence. Without it, we stand alone.

Sincerely,

JAMES E. CARMODY
Your Chief of Police

OUR COMMUNITY

Wyoming at a Glance

Community Profile

The City of Wyoming is hardly your typical city. Rather than spreading out from an original point of settlement, this community grew from the outside in. And today its downtown is a three-and-a-half mile stretch of five-lane 28th Street, one of Michigan’s busiest roadways.

Though commercial establishments are scattered throughout Wyoming today, the greatest concentration is along 28th Street. Wyoming City Hall is there, too--- across the busy street from Rogers Plaza, the first shopping mall in Kent County.

Early in its first year as a city, Wyoming officials sifted through contest entries and selected a motto---‘City of Vision and Progress.’ It has proven to be an appropriate choice. The city appears to have had 20/20 vision and continues to make great progress.

Wyoming’s population continues to grow. Today, Wyoming is Michigan’s 16th largest community with west Michigan’s third largest industrial tax base. The City has grown to 72,125 strong with a diverse cultural base, six school districts, a balance of older and modern homes, retail variety and an abundance of parkland. All this takes place in a region that is proud, independent, and growing while still competitive.

School Liaison Program Annual Summary

School Resource Activities

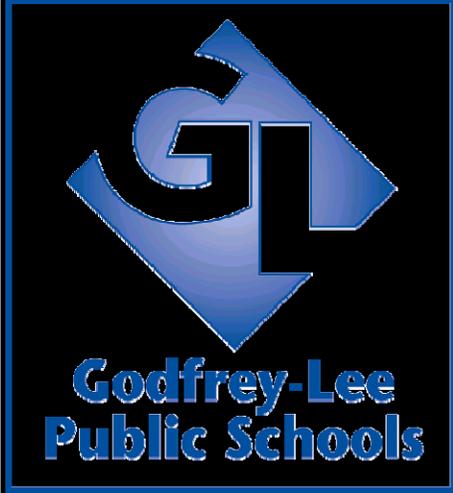

Sgt. Tim Pols is the supervisor of the School Resource Officer (SRO) program. The School Resource Officer program is a nationally accepted program involving the placement of a law enforcement officer within the educational environment.

The Wyoming Police Department has found that this long-standing partnership with the schools is very beneficial to the students and faculty. The mission of the unit is for the School Resource Officer to be a resource for students, parents, teachers and administrative staff regarding law issues. The SRO also serves as a link to other service agencies which provide preventive and counseling services within the school district. Working hand in hand with the principal in each school, the SRO assists with finding solutions to problems affecting school-aged children.

One of the primary goals of the program is to provide a safe learning environment for students and staff. To assist in this goal, this unit:

- Develops relationships with students and staff while participating in the education of students on topics such as: drug and alcohol use, violence prevention, internet and personal safety, etc.
- Conducts site security operations and reviews.
- Works closely with the Patrol Division as they conduct daily school walk-thrus.
- Works closely with the Detective Division to follow up on or assist in investigations involving students.

Department Training

Annual Summary

Training Summary

The Wyoming Police Department Training Unit utilizes many different delivery methods to improve upon our knowledge, skills and abilities. These methods include, but are not limited to: Field training, In-service training sessions, West Michigan Criminal Justice Training Consortium (WMCJTC) classes, Roll Call sessions, and vendor-provided training.

Training Methods

Our Commitment to Training

Members of the department attended approximately 9,500 hours of documented, specialized training during 2012. Although our staffing numbers fluctuate, that represents an average of just over 120 hours of training per officer throughout the year. This does not include the regularly scheduled TACT training, K9 training, CNT training, Honor Guard training or individual range training. The Wyoming Police Department prides itself on the quality of training provided to officers.

West Michigan Criminal Justice Training Consortium (WMCJTC)

Our partnership with WMCJTC provides an economic method of training our employees. WMCJTC sponsored courses attended in 2012 included topics such as:

- Legal Update
- Police Precision Driving
- Northwestern University School of Police Staff and Command
- Accident Investigation (Series 1-8)

Mandatory and In-Service Training

The training unit delivers the mandatory weapons qualifications, OSHA and CALEA mandated trainings, special unit in-service training and other specialty courses. A training matrix was developed to help insure that all of the mandatory topics are covered. With our own staff instructors, we conducted in-house training on numerous topics in 2012, including:

- | | |
|-----------------------|---|
| ASP expandable batons | Cell Phone Technology in Investigations |
| Defensive Tactics | SFST refresher |
| Field Force | Motorcycle Refresher |
| Active Shooter | CPL/Open Carry Issue |
| Taser Instruction | |

Vendor-provided training

Training that cannot be obtained through the previously described methods is often procured through outside vendors with expertise in topics such as:

- | | |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Street Survival | Ultimate Survival |
| Field Training Officer | Wellness Training - Cooper Institute |
| CPTED Training | Shotgun Armorer |
| Crime Free Multi-Housing | Annual NTOA and CNT Conferences |

Community Programs

Neighborhood Watch Program

Our Neighborhood Watch Program encourages people in our community to have ownership of the neighborhoods by becoming more aware of their neighbors and report suspicious activity to the police. This program also encourages collaboration among neighbors to actively address community issues and concerns. Representatives of the Wyoming Police Department joined Neighborhood Watch groups in celebrating the 29th Annual National Night Out.

Child Watch

We have trained and screened volunteers throughout the city to assist us in providing a safe haven for children in distress. In addition to the community volunteers, the schools partner with us to provide the children with the educational to let them know the house with the watchful eye is a safe haven for them in an emergency.

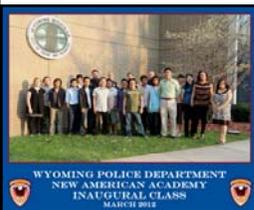

Metro High School Police Academy

The Metro High School Police Academy was formed in June of 1996 as a cooperative effort between the Wyoming, Kentwood and Grandville Police Departments. It has since expanded to include the departments of Walker, Rockford, East Grand Rapids, the Kent County Sheriff's Department. Since the expansion, the program services students from over 29 different schools. The academy offers the students with forty-eight hours of instruction that is based on the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards Basic Police Training Curriculum.

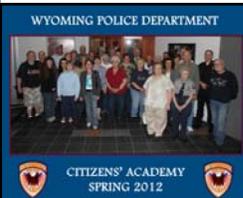

National Night Out

National Night Out is a nationwide crime prevention programs that encourages people to get out and meet their neighbors. The unit coordinates with other area police agencies and our Neighborhood Watch Groups to arrange public displays of police equipment, neighborhood block parties, parades and other gatherings for the event.

New American Academy

The 2012 New American Academy was established in partnership with Bethany Christian Services to enhance new citizen/resident awareness of the role of the law enforcement in our community. The mission of the program is to build trust and understanding between new citizens and local government and improve the quality of life in our neighborhoods. The 18-hour program is comprised of practical exercises, classroom instruction/demonstration, and open dialogue about the Wyoming Police Department, our role in the community, and the criminal justice system as a whole.

Citizens Academy

The Citizen's Academy was established in 1996 with the mission of enhancing citizen awareness and understanding of the role of law enforcement in our community.
